

The Music House for Children was at GLASTONBURY 2010!

Celebrating 40 years was one of the reasons that 180,000 music fans turned up, stayed and enjoyed glorious sunshine, partying and dancing and the most incredible variety of music - probably in the world.

The exceptionally talented Emma Hutchinson, early years artist, musician, performer, song-writer and storyteller created her own niche market in the Kidz Field, a rare and beautiful experience for families, babies and children.

Emma brought her brand new show to young fans keen to see more of her magical tales involving music, singing, dancing and adventure, together with the enchanting illustrations by Charlotte Cleveland.

Hum and the Elephant galloped their way through hills, dales, forests, fiery volcanoes, tidal waves, Lakes and winds, to find a tiny grain of corn. Based on an Indian fable, performing this special tale in the Little Kidz Tent provided a perfect solace for families with young children and babies seeking calm after somewhat frenetic performances going on elsewhere.
